CLCAC Supports National Research Council Recommendations on Army Risk Assessment Plan

Frederick, MD – The Containment Laboratory Community Advisory Committee (CLCAC) unanimously supports the National Research Council recommendations regarding risk assessment for the Medical Countermeasure Test and Evaluation facility. We look forward to the actions that the Army will take in response to these recommendations. The CLCAC will participate in the process and assist by seeking public input and comment through our website and we will continue our role as a communication conduit between the citizens of Frederick County and all parties involved in the assessment.
